Ecosystem and Cultural Services Clara María Minaverry,Sebastián Valverde,2021-09-27 This book describes cases and experiences in connection with environmental and cultural ecosystem services in Argentina. It contributes to the debate in connection with different approaches to analyse ecosystem services, focusing on the environment, the Law and social perspectives and concerns. Among the topics discussed are the implementation of the National Forests Act, the regulation and recognition of ecosystem services, the role of indigenous people, the policies in place for nature and forest conservation in different regions of Argentina. This book is one of the few research studies about cultural ecosystem services developed in Latin America and presents an attractive combination of the legal, environmental and social approaches and was written by an interdisciplinary team of academics who have theoretical and practical experience in this region where there is a valuable natural and cultural heritage.

Inventarios Forestales Nacionales de América Latina y el Caribe Ramírez, C., Alberdi, I., Bahamondez, C., y Freitas, J., coords.,2021-12-02 Los inventarios forestales nacionales (IFN) son una de las principales fuentes de información forestal. En este libro se describe la importancia e historia de los IFN de Latinoamérica y el Caribe, región especialmente relevante por la extensión y la biodiversidad de sus bosques. Se abordan las metodologías de recolección de datos y estimación de los indicadores más importantes en 21 países. Asimismo, se analizan las similitudes y diferencias de los diseños de los IFN, los desafíos y oportunidades, y las perspectivas futuras, lo cual muestra que la información generada por los países es diversa y se debe armonizar para satisfacer los compromisos y oportunidades en la gestión sostenible de los bosques en el siglo XXI. Esta publicación marca un hito en el inicio del proceso de armonización hacia la transparencia de los datos del sector forestal de Latinoamérica y el Caribe, y constituye la primera labor de una red de expertos y colaboradores de IFN de esta región.

National Forest Inventories of Latin America and the Caribbean Ramírez, C., Alberdi, I., Bahamondez, C., Freitas, J.,2022-06-24 National forest inventories (NFIs) are one of the main sources of forest information. This book describes the importance and history of NFIs in Latin America and the Caribbean, a region that is particularly relevant due to the extension and biodiversity of its forests. Methodologies for data collection and measurement of the most relevant indicators in 21 countries are addressed. In addition, similarities and differences in IFN designs, challenges and opportunities, and prospects for the future are examined. This analysis demonstrates that the information generated by the countries is diverse and must be harmonized to meet the commitments and opportunities for sustainable forest management in the 21st century. This publication represents a milestone in the beginning of the harmonization process towards data transparency within the forestry sector in Latin America and the Caribbean and constitutes the first collaborative effort of a network of NFI experts and collaborators in the region.

Latin American Dendroecology Marín Pompa-García, J. Julio Camarero, 2020-03-14 Latin America is a megadiverse territory hosting several hotspots of plant diversity and many types of forest biomes, ecosystems and climate types, from tropical rainforest to semi-arid woodlands. This combination of diverse forests and climates generates multiple responses to ecological changes affecting the structure and functioning of forest ecosystems. Recently, there have been major efforts to improve our understanding of such impacts on ecosystems processes. However, there is a dearth of studies focused on Latin-American forest ecosystems that could provide novel insights into the patterns and mechanisms of ecological processes in response to environmental stress. The abundance of “New World” tree species with dendrochronological potential constitutes an ideal opportunity to improve the ecological state of knowledge regarding these diverse forest types, which are often threatened by several impacts such as logging or conversion to agricultural lands. Thus, detailed information on the dendroecology of these species will improve our understanding of forests in the face of global change. Accordingly, this book identifies numerous relevant ecological processes and scales, ranging from tree species to populations and communities, and from both dendrochronological and dendroecological perspectives. It offers a valuable reference guide for the exploration of long-term ecological interactions between trees and their environmental conditions, and will foster further research and international projects on the continent and elsewhere.

National Forest Inventories Claude Vidal, Iciar A. Alberdi, Laura Hernández Mateo, John J. Redmond, 2016-11-24 The book presents the current state and good practices of national forest inventories in monitoring wood resources and demonstrates pathways for harmonisation and improved common reporting. Beyond a general overview over availability and use of wood resources in different countries, it provides a unique collection of original contributions from national forest inventory experts with in-depth descriptions of current NFI methods in assessing wood availability and wood use in European countries, and selected countries from America and Asia. The main topics are national definitions and improvements in common reporting of forests available for wood supply, stem quality and assortments, estimation of change including growth and drain, and tree resources outside forest land. The book is a must-have for everyone who is contributing to national forest inventories either methodologically or operatively, for people who want or need to understand national forest inventory provided data and information on the availability of wood resources. By providing profound knowledge it is a valuable basis for scientists involved in scenario modelling and analysing effects of climate change, as well as individuals in private organisations and public administrations promoting the sustainable use of natural resources and the potential of green economy.

The Soils of Argentina Gerardo Rubio,Raul S. Lavado,Fernando X. Pereyra,2018-05-30 This is the first comprehensive book on Argentinian pedology. It discusses the main soil types of Argentina, their geographical distribution, classification, functions, agricultural use, ecological aspects, and the threats to which they have been subjected during centuries of intensive and extensive management. The description of the soils is accompanied by a complete set of data, pictures and maps, including benchmark profiles and an overview of the country's agricultural production. It also deals with future scenarios of the relationships between soil science and other disciplines and the main challenges that soil science will face in the future. Further, the book explores aspects of the main soil forming factors, such as climate, vegetation, geology and geomorphology, making use of new, unpublished data and elaborations, and presents a history of pedological research in Argentina.

Low Intensity Breeding of Native Forest Trees in Argentina Mario J. Pastorino,Paula Marchelli,2020-11-18 Global climate change requires the development of programs that consider the active restoration of degraded forests and the use of native trees in afforestation to preserve the natural environment. International commitments like the UN REDD program, the Montréal Process and the Convention on Biological Diversity call for the breeding of species rarely contemplated by large industrial companies. Low-intensity breeding is the most rational strategy for those species: simple but robust, and not dependent on continuously increasing funding, and therefore effective even with a relatively small budget. It commonly focuses on high genetic diversity rather than improving economic traits and adaptability rather than productivity. Controlled crosses with full pedigrees typical of high-intensity breeding are replaced by open pollination. This book presents state-of-the-art breeding strategies from the last two decades for several forest tree species of prime importance in the natural forests of Argentina. They are distributed in the three main forestry ecoregions of the country: the subtropical dry forest (Chaco), the subtropical rain forests (Yungas and Alto Paraná rainforests) and the temperate forests of Patagonia. The book also discusses the genetic patterns of the selected species defined using genetic markers together with the analysis of the variation in quantitative traits. Further, it examines the crucial features of their reproductive biology, such as the mating system and gene flow and describes the current breeding programs. Lastly, it presents the latest developments in genetic resources and their emerging applications, concluding with some reflections and perspectives related to the conditioning imposed by climate change.

Natural Resources Conservation and Advances for Sustainability Manoj Kumar Jhariya, Ram Swaroop Meena, Arnab Banerjee, Surya Nandan Meena, 2021-09-24 Natural Resources Conservation and Advances for Sustainability addresses the latest challenges associated with the management and conservation of natural resources. It presents interdisciplinary approaches to promote advances in solving these challenges. By examining what has already been done and analyzing it in the context of what still needs to be done, particularly in the context of latest technologies and sustainability, the book helps to identify ideal methods for natural resource management and conservation. Each chapter begins with a graphical abstract and presents complicated or detailed content in the form of figures or tables. In addition, the book compares the latest techniques with conventional techniques and troubleshoots conventional methods with modifications, making it a practical resource for researchers in environmental science and natural resource management. - Discusses the pros and cons of past and current endeavors related to natural resource management - Presents recent technologies and methods for management and conservation, particularly with applications for sustainability - Covers a variety of disciplines, from environmental science to life science - Includes a graphical abstract as well as a section on significant achievements in the field and future perspectives

Derecho forestal: estrategias para la conservación y el uso sostenible de los recursos forestales María del Pilar García Pachón, Ángela María Amaya Arias, 2021-01-01 PRESENTACIÓN El derecho forestal cobra extraordinaria relevancia como herramienta para la concreción de diversos fines del derecho ambiental, especialmente aquellos relativos a alcanzar el uso racional de los recursos naturales, la conservación de la naturaleza, y avanzar hacia el desarrollo sostenible. Ante la necesidad de ahondar en su contenido y con la cadena forestal como guía del estudio propuesto, el Grupo de Investigación en Derecho del Medio Ambiente de la Universidad Externado de Colombia diseñó y propuso un proyecto de investigación jurídico que permitiera ilustrar suficientemente a los diversos operadores jurídicos que se ven involucrados en el sector forestal. Para lograr ese objetivo, el proyecto de investigación propuesto se dio a conocer a un grupo de expertos nacionales y extranjeros reconocidos por sus trabajos previos en derecho forestal y/o por su aporte al derecho ambiental colombiano o internacional. A estos autores se les solicitó escoger alguna de las temáticas que identificamos como esenciales y proponer un trabajo investigativo que debía cumplir con una serie de parámetros formales y de fondo que fueron guía de sus trabajos. Una vez recibidas las propuestas específicas de investigación, los temas de estudio se reordenaron y clasificaron para lograr la completitud del estudio propuesto. El trabajo preparatorio de la investigación que hoy nos complace presentar trajo como resultado esta obra conformada por nueve secciones, que dan cuenta de la multiplicidad de dimensiones desde las cuales se puede abordar la cuestión jurídica forestal. De igual manera, este escrito permite evidenciar cómo el trabajo de investigación individual y colectivo permite resultados como los que el lector podrá observar en este documento.

Economics of Land Degradation and Improvement - A Global Assessment for Sustainable Development

Ephraim Nkonya, Alisher Mirzabaev, Joachim von Braun, 2015-11-11 This volume deals with land degradation, which is occurring in almost all terrestrial biomes and agro-ecologies, in both low and high income countries and is stretching to about 30% of the total global land area. About three billion people reside in these degraded lands. However, the impact of land degradation is especially severe on livelihoods of the poor who heavily depend on natural resources. The annual global cost of land degradation due to land use and cover change (LUCC) and lower cropland and rangeland productivity is estimated to be about 300 billion USD. Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA) accounts for the largest share (22%) of the total global cost of land degradation. Only about 38% of the cost of land degradation due to LUCC - which accounts for 78% of the US$300 billion loss - is borne by land users and the remaining share (62%) is borne by consumers of ecosystem services off the farm. The results in this volume indicate that reversing land degradation trends makes both economic sense, and has multiple social and environmental benefits. On average, one US dollar investment into restoration of degraded land returns five US dollars. The findings of the country case studies call for increased investments into the rehabilitation and restoration of degraded lands, including through such institutional and policy measures as strengthening community participation for sustainable land management, enhancing government effectiveness and rule of law, improving access to markets and rural services, and securing land tenure. The assessment in this volume has been conducted at a time when there is an elevated interest in private land investments and when global efforts to achieve sustainable development objectives have intensified. In this regard, the results of this volume can contribute significantly to the ongoing policy debate and efforts to design strategies for achieving sustainable development goals and related efforts to address land degradation and halt biodiversity loss.

Conservation of Andean Forests Nicola Clerici, 2025-05-26 This book addresses recent and novel studies with ecological and conservation relevance of forest ecosystems in the Andes. It provides new insights in a multi-scale perspective into forest management, landscape connectivity changes, forest biomass patterns and species composition, and biological invasions of Andean forests, in a context of anthropogenic disturbance and global change. The studies cover gradients of forest ecosystems from Venezuela to southern Chile.

Forest Ecology Arnold van der Valk, 2009-08-02 This volume provides an overview of recent advances in forest ecology on a variety of topics, including species diversity and the factors that control species diversity, environmental factors controlling distribution of forests, impacts of disturbances on forests (fires, drought, hurricane), reproduction ecology of both trees and understory species, and spatial organization of forests. Previously published in Plant Ecology, Volume 201, No.1, 2009.
