INTER-TEXTING ENGLISH Sabina Madgearu, 2018-01-01 Some readers that see the contents of Inter-texting English will probably discard it on account of being coursebook that turns back time to the beginning of the twentieth century for it is based on literary excerpts that are likely to direct everyone's thoughts to the Grammar Translation Method. Yet their horizon of expectation will be denied. Inter-texting English is a coursebook that runs against the contemporary current in education. Education has commenced to resemble more and more an assembly line whose output is far from the intended one – people incapable of appreciating beauty any more. To counter this “mass production” education that relies on the media (articles and editorials), I propose Inter-texting English – a coursebook based on beautiful texts and images – simply because beauty is universal and a-temporal, it is always valid. Unlike the “real-life situations” put forward by the current methodology that are invalidated every decade (but that helps sales and the toilers that revamp our usual coursebooks). Inter-texting English is a coursebook by means of which a student learns English by putting his/her mind to work, by constantly going back and forth in time and space, a movement that boosts mental and cultural flexibility. Inter-texting English is a coursebook that favours dialogue (which is not the same as communication) between texts, images, students. Sabina Madgearu

Tricksters and Pranksters Alison Williams, 2021-11-08 This volume represents a contribution to comparative scholarship in Medieval and Renaissance studies in its investigation of the ingenious diversity of roguish practices found in Medieval and Renaissance literature and its recognition of the coherent normative function of tales of tricksters and pranksters. The wide variety of works analysed, from those forming part of the established canon of texts on undergraduate degree schemes to lesser-known works, makes the volume of interest to students and researchers alike. The roguish behaviour of women, priests, foxes and outlaws and the knavery of Eulenspiegel and Panurge are used to illustrate how rituals of inversion and humiliation typical of the medieval carnival are reflected in literary accounts of trickery, and to question whether the restorative function attributed to carnival celebration is equally to be found in the intra-textual and extra-textual outcomes of trickery. This analysis is supported by studies into the trickster in mythology, sociological investigations into the role of disorder, Bakhtinian theories of carnival and the carnivalesque, and theories of black humour.
